The Wilson administration is 1 year old. It has to its credit a revision of the tariff downwards; an income tax that will put a hundred million dollars a year into the treasury; a law for the direct election of United States Senators; a tremendous extension and development of the parcels post; a currency bill which insures the country against panics, and other achievements which break all records for constructive legislation in a single year. All who voted for Wilson are still proud of their action. All who failed to vote for him are now glad he was elected. Congratulations to the country and to the Democratic party.

If you are not at Church Sunday morning, what are you doing? After offering your defence, and enumerating all the valid and invalid excuses you have or imagine you have, your Sunday been well-employed? Wouldn't you really have felt better if you had gone to Church, and shown some appreciation of God's benefits, shown that you possessed a sense of gratitude and love for Him? Wouldn't your good example and edification of your neighbor have made you feel better? and then don't you think that after you had paid some of your debt to God, that you could take up the world's obligations on Monday morning with a feeling that God's promise would be made good in you? To those who love God, all things work together unto God."

Joseph Collins, Pastor.

Washington Letter
Borah, the standpat Senator from Idaho, is taking his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the presidency quite seriously. In his speech at Columbus, Ohio, last week, he criticized T. R.'s attitude toward the G. O. P. and has since been taking a fall out of George Perkins, T. R.'s principal backer. It's to be a merry war.
Of the progressives in the Senate, only Poindexter of Washington, is in favor of Roosevelt's nomination for the Presidency. Cummins and Kenyon believe that the Republican party is sufficiently progressive for the needs of the country. Norris says that the formation of a third party is a mistake; Bristow is asking re-election to the Senate as a Republican, and Victor Murdock is his Bull Moose opponent; Crawford is campaigning for re-election in South Dakota as a Progressive Republican, not as a follower of T. R.; Clapp is opposed to the Progressive idea of trust regulation; and sterling was elected as a Republican and is still in the field, though claiming to be progressive. None of these are in sympathy with the idea of Roosevelt's leading the ticket.

The Committee on Merchant, Marine and Fisheries, of which Alexander, of Missouri is chairman, has made a report of its investigation of the shipping trust. Judge Alexander says steamship lines eliminate or control competition by agreement, fixing the rates, apportioning the tonnage, pooling the earnings, or eliminating non-conference lines. The report recommends that the Interstate Commerce Commission be given authority to fix maximum rates; to prohibit rebates and discrimination; to compel railroads to issue through bills of lading and to open their terminal facilities to all lines on equal terms.

The Naval Appropriation Bill carrying more than $140,000,000 has been reported to the house. Hensley of Missouri, and three other Democrats, submitted a minority report, urging economy and setting forth facts to show that so large an expenditure of money is needless. There is no doubt that the persistent efforts of the Army and Navy League has had the effect of holding the appropriation up to the high figure. While there is prospect of a fierce fight in the House that may cut down the amount the bill will very probably carry as much or more when it finally goes to the president.

Ed. A. Glenn, of Louisiana, Missouri, Journal Clerk of the House, was last week appointed a member of the Mississippi River Commission. Mr. Glenn has been an enthusiastic advocate of river improvement for a number of years, and is thoroughly familiar with the whole proposition? This fact coupled with his indomitable courage and energy insures efficient service in this new capacity. When Glenn gets behind an enterprise it moves or something breaks.

The Standard Oil, W. R. Hearst, the British Oil and various other interests that have large holdings or valuable concessions in that turbulent country, are using every possible influence to plunge this country into a war with poor old Mex. They are encouraged by the big commercial interests in this country that would profit immensely by such a war. This country is now paying 100,000,000 annually for the support of the Army, about $150,000,000, for the Navy and $200,000,000 in pensions. The people who pay the price are not anxious to hear the sound of the tocsin. Americans have been warned time after time to get out of Mexico and stay out, but they remain and yell for protection. It is improbable that the Administration can be bluffed into intervention, but if it is, certain belligerent Republican Members of the House and Senate should be commissioned at once and sent to the front.

Public School Notes

The Carleton College young ladies who are members of the teacher's training class are frequent visitors. They appear to be very much interested in learning the various methods and means by which the teachers obtain their best results.

Mesdames Will Agnew and Robinson were visitors last week.

Three boys and three girls have signified their intention of contesting in the declamatory contest to represent the high school in the County contest. None of these have been in the contest before. We are glad so many new ones are taking an interest in this work. It is the continued effort that brings the results.

The basketball season is now over with our boys and they are giving their attention to track work as the weather permits. Five of the members of last year's team are in school and doubtless all of these will surpass their efforts of last year. They hope to get this material and the new material in shape to make a winning team.

Teacher's examination which was held in the high school building Friday and Saturday of last week under the direction of our County Superintendent, Mr. Akers was well attended. Eighty were present either taking a part or all of the work. There were also a few visitors.

The superintendent has in the office a number of specimens of the children's writing which indicate that they are learning the new movement and getting good results. We introduced this new system a year ago. It was new to most of our teachers and we did not get the returns we should have desired at first, but the indications are at present that the adoption was justified. Many of the pupils are taking unusual interest and are even now writing a "good hand" with a free and easy movement.

The discipline in the two ward buildings has reached an higher standard than ever before during the last seven years. There is a unified effort on the part of both the teachers and pupils to obtain the desired results and we are delighted with the spirit manifested and the results obtained. We believe that the pupils as well as the teachers will be glad to have patrons and friends visit them and observe for themselves this advancement.

The term is nearing the close. Parents should keep close watch over the reports of the children and see that they are "making good" unless prevented by sickness or some other unavoidable occurrence. Teachers will be glad to have you visit the actual work and see just the nature of the work the class and the individual pupils are doing.

The Superintendent.

Mrs. B. D. Pratt

Mrs. D. B. Pratt, of St. Mary's, died March 9, 1914, and was buried at the Old Stone church, at 2 p. m. March 10, J. M. Bailey officiating. She was born January 22, 1849, having passed her 67th birthday. She was the mother of 10 children all of whom survive her. Mrs. Pratt was a firm believer in Christ and his love, and gave Him her heart at the age of 17 years. She has been a member of the Christian church since, and was always a loyal member. Mrs. Pratt was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bryan, of Ste. Genevieve county, one of the old settlers there.

She leaves a husband, ten children and a host of friends to mourn her loss.
